

4 September 2007

DE POST BARTENDER ERIN CARROLL WINS THE NEW ZEALAND DRAUGHTMASTERS

In a tightly fought battle at yesterday's NZ Hospitality Show, Erin Carroll from Frenzi Group's, Belgian Beer Café De Post, has taken first place in the annual Stella Artois New Zealand Draught Master competition.

Along with the title of Stella Artois New Zealand Draught Master 2007, Erin receives a return trip to Leuven, Belgium to represent New Zealand at the annual Stella Artois World Draught Master competition to be held in October this year.

Thirty four bartenders from around the country contested this year's title of Stella Artois New Zealand Draught Master 2007, which required them to perform a seven-minute Belgian beer pouring ritual judged on both service and technicality.

As the only international draught master competition, the Stella Artois World Draught Master contest is one of the most prestigious and recognised titles to be bestowed upon bartenders around the world.

We wish Erin all the best for Belgium!